Before we get into the recap of 2017, I’d like to express some thoughts about Mr. Rademacher’s departure. He will be missed by many people from both inside and outside of the association. As CEO, he was instrumental in leading us through numerous strategic initiatives that modernized all facets of the organization, including the deployment of advanced information technology solutions and the continuous improvement of service delivery and quality. Mr. Rademacher leaves LACERA a premier pension system that is well positioned for future success. His contributions and achievements will not soon be forgotten.

I am humbled and honored that the LACERA boards selected me to serve as the interim CEO. The boards will perform a comprehensive national search process for Mr. Rademacher’s long-term replacement. In the meantime, I accept and welcome this opportunity. That’s because I believe in the talented, professional, and dedicated employees who work every day to serve you, our members, and fulfill our noble mission to produce, protect, and provide the promised benefits.

Financial Condition

The year is drawing to a close, so it’s time to discuss LACERA’s financial condition and service accomplishments. I’m pleased to report that our prudent investments in accordance with the investment policy established by our Board of Investments continue to yield positive results. In the 2016–2017 fiscal year (July 1, 2016 to June 30, 2017), the Pension Plan’s investment portfolio realized a 12.7 percent return. Our policy benchmark is 11.2 percent, which means that, in the last fiscal year, the portfolio outperformed its benchmark by 1.5 percent. The best performing sectors of the portfolio were the non-U.S. equity, U.S. equity, and private equity asset classes, which gained 22.7 percent, 18.6 percent, and 12.5 percent, respectively. Finishing the fiscal year with a balance of approximately $52.5 billion, the Fund remains stable and positioned to finance the promised benefits to current as well as future recipients. processed 332,801 pieces of mail and scanned/indexed an impressive 812,900 member documents. Over in Retiree Healthcare, specialists answered more than 54,000 calls and mailed 50,130 insurance packages.

One-on-one counseling was provided to 18,149 members in our offices, and our specialists educated 14,503 attendees at more than 500 workshops and benefit fairs. During the last fiscal year, LACERA expanded services to members by offering neighborhood workshops and counseling sessions in Rowland Heights and Torrance. Because of the positive response, LACERA plans to increase the frequency of these neighborhood workshops around Los Angeles County in the future.

LACERA’s Benefits division put 3,002 new retirees and survivors on the retiree payroll. They also ensured that 63,504 retirement allowances were paid on time each month. Meanwhile, our Benefit Protection Unit investigated 351 high-risk cases, which included instances of fraud, lost contact, and elder abuse.

If you’d like to read more facts and figures on our financial condition and a breakdown of accomplishments, please take a look at the enclosed LACERA Popular Annual Financial Report (PAFR). The year 2017 has been eventful at LACERA, and I see great things on the horizon for 2018.

EXECUTIVE DESK

YOUR SECURITY, OUR CONCERN

STAY SAFE DURING THE HOLIDAYS

To prepare for end-of-the-year holiday celebrations, many Americans spend a great deal of time in the kitchen baking and cooking. Some choose to light candles, decorate a tree, or tack up outdoor lights. While all these activities are meant to be positive endeavors, they’re potentially dangerous. Household fires are reported to occur most often in December and January, and most burns occur inside the home while cooking. We want you to spend your holidays injury-free, so consider these tips to prevent fires and burns this season.

Stove/oven safety
• Keep your stovetop and oven clean. Grease can ignite easily.
• Don’t leave oven mitts or towels near the stove.
• Cook on back burners, and turn pot handles in.

Microwave safety
• Use only containers designed for microwave use.
• Allow food to cool before removing it from the microwave.
• Prevent steam burns by removing lids carefully.

Heating safety
• Space heaters need space—at least three feet away from anything that can burn.
• Don’t leave heaters unattended.
• Don’t use throw rugs in front of the stove or fireplace.

During the hustle and bustle of the holidays, you might feel short on time. However, dedicating a few hours to ensure these safety measures are in place can save you trouble in the future. After you’ve secured your house properly to prevent fires and burns, why not sit back and reward yourself with a warm holiday beverage? Maybe you could make some eggnog… on the back burner with the handles turned in, of course. Happy holidays!

Medigap Insurance Policies: No impact on LACERA-administered group health plans

Recently in the news, it was announced that there will be changes to the Medigap insurance policies in 2020. The proposed changes apply to Medigap insurance policies sold by private insurance companies and do not impact your LACERA-administered group health plans. Your benefits remain unchanged.

If you have questions about Medigap, please contact:
- State Health Insurance Assistance Program: 1-800-434-0222; www.aging.ca.gov/hicap

If you have questions about your LACERA-administered group health plans, please contact LACERA’s Retiree Healthcare Division at 1-800-786-6464 (press 1). You may also log in to your My LACERA account by visiting lacera.com and clicking the logo at the bottom-right of the page.

Your 2017 1099-R Is in the Mail

LACERA will mail a Form 1099-R to all retirees and survivors by the end of January, in compliance with Internal Revenue Service (IRS) regulations. The IRS requires LACERA to file a 1099-R to report retirement fund distributions made to you during the year.

Access Your 1099-R on My LACERA

If you’re a registered user of My LACERA, you can view and print your current and prior years’ 1099-Rs. The 2017 1099-Rs will be available on My LACERA in February.

Hold on to Your December Check Stub

For ease of recordkeeping, you may find it helpful to keep your December check stub or automatic deposit receipt (ADR). Both the ADR and the check stub show the total amount of your 2017 retirement benefit income. This will be useful if you need that information before your Form 1099-R arrives to you in the mail or is accessible on My LACERA.
1. Q: Where can I find my beneficiary information?
   A: You can view your beneficiary information on My LACERA, our 24-hour online, interactive web feature that connects you to your personal retirement account. The information also appears on the Annual Benefit Statement (ABS) LACERA mails you each year in the month following your birthday.

2. Q: Do I have to provide the Social Security number of the person I wish to name as beneficiary?
   A: Yes. A Social Security number (or Taxpayer Identification Number) is required before any benefits can be paid. If a member doesn’t have a number at the time of beneficiary designation, LACERA must receive this information when the death claim is processed.

3. Q: Does LACERA pay a death/burial benefit to the beneficiary of a retired member?
   A: Yes. All LACERA retirement plans include a one-time lump-sum death benefit of $5,000, payable to the beneficiary upon the death of a retired member.

4. Q: Are taxes withheld from the $5,000 death/burial benefit that is provided for retired members?
   A: Yes. LACERA is required to withhold 20 percent in federal income tax. However, your benefit payment may be eligible for rollover to a traditional IRA or an eligible employer plan, which would allow you to postpone taxation of that benefit until it is paid to you. You have 60 days after you receive the benefit payment to roll over all or part of it to a traditional IRA or to an eligible employer plan that accepts your rollover.

Note: Your payment cannot be rolled over to: Los Angeles County’s 401(k) Savings Plan and Horizons 457 Plan, a Roth IRA, a SIMPLE IRA, or a Coverdell Education Savings Account (formerly known as an education IRA).

More specific information on the tax treatment of payments from qualified employer plans is available in IRS Publication 575, Pension and Annuity Income, and IRS Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements. These publications are available from your local IRS office, online at www.irs.gov, or by calling 800-TAX-FORMS.

3 Things

The clock strikes 12, and a whole new year begins. Whether 2017 was joyful, trying, or a bit of both, it’s time to look forward to the possibilities in the new year. Millions of people do this by popping open a bottle of champagne and forming new resolutions. You’re probably familiar with these traditions, but here are three things you might not know about New Year’s:

- The first New Year’s celebration dates back 4,000 years. Julius Caesar named January after Janus, the Roman god of doors and gates. Janus had two faces, one looking forward and one looking back.

- Americans consume close to 360 million glasses of champagne during this time. The bubbly drink dates back to the 17th century when the cork was invented.

- According to statistics from the National Insurance Crime Bureau, vehicles are stolen on New Year’s Day more than any other holiday. Owners of Honda Accords should be extra vigilant.

Healthy Holiday Tips for Seniors

Looking forward to the holidays? As the song goes, “It’s the most wonderful time of the year!” But, especially for seniors, the holidays can be particularly challenging to your health and wellbeing. Give yourself and your loved ones a special gift this year by following these tips:

Stay well. It can be easy to forget to take care of yourself when you’re getting ready for holiday activities and visits from family and friends. But it’s important to remember that your health should come first. If you feel yourself getting overly tired, consider taking a “you-day.” Slow down and enjoy a much-needed break! And make sure you get plenty of sleep. In the midst of flu season, your family and friends will understand, and appreciate it, if you take care of yourself. And as always, wash your hands frequently to avoid illness and spreading germs to others.

Keep stress to a minimum. The holidays can be great fun but also overwhelming. If you feel yourself getting stressed, take a few minutes to practice deep breathing. Close your eyes and breathe deeply. Clear your mind as much as possible, and focus on your breath as you inhale and exhale. Even a minute or two of deep breathing can help you settle down and be more focused as you continue with your holiday preparations.

If you drink, be careful. When you’re having fun at a holiday gathering, it’s easy to forget how much you’ve had to drink. Be aware of your limits. Get up slowly from your chair, and be careful when walking—whether you’re drinking or not. It’s easy to trip over presents left sitting out on the floor, or to slip and fall when you’re outside, especially if you live in an area with icy pathways.

Watch out for hazards. Short-circuiting lights, dried out trees and wreathes, and crowded parties are all potential hazards. Look around for potential issues, and keep your fire extinguisher handy.

Watch what you eat. It’s tempting to overindulge on sweets and unhealthy foods during the holidays, but too much could leave you feeling sick. Stick with healthy foods that are low in fat and sugar. Also, keep up your water intake. Taking steps like these can keep you energized throughout the day.

Take positive steps if you feel lonely. Sometimes holidays can be a hard time, especially if family and friends are out of town or have passed on. Be honest with yourself if you’re feeling sad, but try not to let those feelings overtake you. Often, talking on the phone or getting out of the house can be helpful. Reach out to family or friends, go out for a walk, visit your local senior center or place of worship, or take yourself out for a nice dinner or a movie. And consider volunteering for a charity or homeless center, which not only helps others but can benefit you as well.

Mr. Rademacher was instrumental in overseeing the establishment of the Member Services and Quality Assurance divisions.

Under his leadership, LACERA moved to the digital age—expanding lacera.com, rolling out the My LACERA portal, and providing online self-service options.

He expertly guided LACERA through numerous legislative and plan tier changes such as the Public Employees’ Pension Reform Act of 2013 (PEPRA) and Retiree Healthcare Tier II.

Assistant Executive Officer Robert Hill will serve as the interim Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Hill joined LACERA in 1994 and has held various senior roles, with experience spanning virtually all parts of the organization, including serving in the Assistant Executive Officer position since 2001.

Many will feel Mr. Rademacher’s loss, both professionally and personally. Interim CEO Robert Hill says, “I know Gregg to be honorable, professional, and knowledgeable. Like many of you, I think of him as a teacher, storyteller, and a person who always strives to do the right thing.”

Please join us in wishing Gregg Rademacher health and happiness in his retirement. For more information about Mr. Rademacher’s contributions and LACERA’s future leadership plans, see the press release on lacera.com.

Many of the fifteen divisions at LACERA perform behind-the-scenes work that keeps the association running smoothly and effectively. One such example is Human Resources. In HR, a team of twelve people comprises three units: Employee and Organizational Development, Return-to-Work and Payroll, and Talent Acquisition and Management. Employees within these teams provide a number of different services, including performance management, conflict resolution, and career planning. Those interested in pursuing a career at LACERA can visit lacera.com, click on the Careers tab, and conveniently apply online for any open position.

As with every other division, HR’s work is always completed with LACERA’s overall mission in mind: to produce, protect, and provide the promised benefits. They do this by effectively administering human resource programs and providing quality service to LACERA employees, supervisors, and managers.

Instructions

1. Heat a large skillet over medium-high heat. Coat with cooking spray. Cook the beef cubes until brown (you might need to cook them in batches). Remove them from the skillet and drain off the fat.
2. Place the browned meat in the slow cooker with the potatoes, carrots, onion, cream of mushroom soup, broth, and marjoram.
3. Cover and cook on low for 8 to 9 hours or high for 4 to 4½ hours.
4. Afterwards, add the green beans. Cover and cook an additional 30 minutes.
